

ANOTHER RIOT IN MEXICO

Real Estate Dealer of Guadalajara
Shot and Instantly Killed 14-Year-Old Mexican Boy.

GUADALAJARA, Mexico, Nov. 14.—Carlos B. Carothers, a locally prominent real estate dealer, shot and instantly killed Jesus Loza, a 14-year-old Mexican boy, and wounded Prudencio Chaves, a gendarme, in defending his home against a riotous attack by Mexicans Friday night.

Carothers surrendered to the authorities at the first opportunity and was lodged in the State penitentiary at midnight. Following a preliminary examination Saturday he was placed incommunicado until Tuesday.

Although the entire police force, foot and mounted, and the Tenth Regiment of cavalry were called out the rioting which began at 8 o'clock in the evening, was suppressed only after three hours of vigorous effort, and after considerable additional damage to property had been done. The affair was a continuation of the previous night's violence by student and workmen.

As on Thursday night the mob traveled rapidly through the business district, hurling rocks through the windows of American establishments, many of which had already been practically demolished and had reached the American residence section, when they were overtaken by the police and soldiers.

Carothers, who declared at the police station that he is a Mexican born at Sattilo, but whose parents were from Louisiana, was guarding his home in the western part of the city, the windows and doors of which had been broken in during the first night's rioting. At the first alarm he took his family to the roof of the building for safety, and from that point of vantage he opened fire with a rifle, as the crowd tried to enter and wreck his home. The quick action of the police and soldiers prevented the crowd from seizing Carothers and wreaking vengeance on him.

The American Consul is guarded by a detachment of the Tenth Cavalry. The authorities insist there will be no re-occurrence of the violence and say several hundred arrests have been made.

THREE MASKED HIGHWAYMEN

Secure Between $4,000 and $5,000
Through Daring Hold-up and Seizure of Italians' Payroll.

GREAT BARRINGTON, Mass., Nov. 14.—Three masked highwaymen armed with rifles, secured between $4,000 and $5,000 Saturday through a daring hold-up. The money comprised the payroll for two camps of Italian laborers, employed by the Woronoso Construction Company on the construction of a new electric car line, between Great Barrington and Egremont. The money was carried by the paymaster of the construction company, named Hines, who was escorted by Deputy Sheriff Fred Trusdall and Carlton Robinson, the latter a member of the contracting firm.

Paymaster Hines and his escort as they approached a densely wooded swamp, were confronted by three masked men, who leveled their rifles at them. The robbers then demanded the money and it was handed over, whereupon the robbers disappeared in the thicket. Within half an hour a posse of 200 armed men were on the scene. The swamp was soon surrounded and Saturday night were believed to be trapped.

EIGHT KILLED IN COLLISION

Freight Train Hits Trolley Car and Many People Are Fatally Injured.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Nov. 14.—Eight persons were killed about 11 o'clock Saturday night when a fast Michigan Central freight train hit a Main street trolley car. About a dozen people were injured, some fatally. The known dead are, Motorman

Ward Abbott, Miss Bertha Hensler, James Breeze, William Shaffer and Harry Holtz. Three bodies were moved from the pilot of the engine so badly mangled that recognition was impossible.

Conductor Vern Van Horn had gone on to the track to flag his car ahead. Standing near the crossing was a string of box cars. Down the yards a short distance was an engine standing near a water tank. Seeing no train in sight he motioned for his car ahead. He had stepped aside to let his car pass when coming around the bend at a terrific rate of speed was the fast freight train. The crash came just as Van Horn stepped from between the train and his car. He escaped injury, but was removed to his home, suffering from a nervous collapse.

RUNAWAY WINS GRAND PRIZE

Boy Who Left Home to Become Driver
of Racing Cars Takes Blue Ribbon Event in Savannah.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 14.—The New York boy, who four years ago ran away from home to become a driver of a racing automobile, Saturday saved the reputation of American drivers from obliteration at the hands of foreigners in the Grand Prize race the blue ribbon event of the American automobile contests.

Speeding faster and farther than man ever vent before in an automobile road race, this young man, David Bruce Brown, won the Grand Prize by barely more than a second at the end of 415.2 heart-breaking miles. He flashed across the electric timing wire 1.42 seconds ahead of Victor Hemery, the Frenchman. His time was 5 hours, 53 minutes and 0.77 seconds, setting a new American record of 70.55 miles an hour.

Both he and Hemery drove Benz cars, so that the foreign machines triumphed.

The consolation of having an American at the wheel of the winner was increased by the feat of "Wild Bob" Burnham, driving the maddest race of his career in an American car, the Marquette-Buick, which finished third getting only third money but an additional thousand dollars for the first American driver to finish in an American car.

Most of the foreigners were either stalled or wrecked on the track before the finish, but the foreigners were too numerous. Two of their cars the winning Benz machines, still remained on the track at the end. All the other finishers were American cars.

OVERBEAK COMES IN FOR GRILLING

Was Asked If He Knew Whether Arch
bold and Others Were Connected With Other Than Kentucky Companies.

JACKSON, Tenn., Nov. 14.—Charles Van Overbeak, traffic manager of the Standard Oil Company of Kentucky, came in for a grilling at the hands of the attorney of the United States Saturday in connection with the suit of the Government against the company in the so-called Grand Junction concession case.

Specifically he was asked if he knew whether John D. Archbold, W. H. Tilford or others named, were connected with any oil company other than that incorporated in Kentucky.

So far as its business relations were concerned, Mr. Van Overbeak testified, his company was not more intimate with the Indiana company than with other concerns engaged in the refining of oil. As to why the name was used by the two corporations he said he was not qualified to testify. Hearing will be resumed Monday.

END OF SERIOUS LABOR DISPUTE

Strike of Express Drivers and Helpers is Formally Declared Off and Men Will Return to Work.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The strike of the express drivers and helpers employed by the trans-continental express companies, was formally declared off Saturday evening and it was announced at strike headquarters that the men will return to work on Monday.

This will end one of the most serious labor disputes that the metropolitan district has experienced in years.

The close of the strike was brought about by the New Jersey strikers, who voted late Saturday to accept the terms upon which the companies offered to take back the men. They had rejected the terms Friday night, but a conference of the strike leaders with Mayor Wittmann of Jersey City, and President Towne of the New York Merchants' Association cleared the way for an agreement Saturday afternoon.

The New York strikers voted Thursday night to accept the companies' offer, conditional upon similar actions being taken by the men across the river.

A hold theft of an express van containing merchandise worth $50,000 and several attacks by mobs on drivers of express and delivery wagons occurred Saturday afternoon, giving the police the hardest work they have had for several days in connection with the strike.

Four strikebreakers were arrested charged with the theft of the van, which belonged to the Adams Express Company.

WANTED TO SEE SICK MOTHER

Young Boy Took Money From Employer. Was Released on Promise to Correct His Waywardness.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 14.—Two weeks ago Alex Walker, a boy from Hopkinsville, Ky., arrived at Russellville, this State, penniless and went to work picking cotton near Pottsville. He was a poor cotton picker and funds were accumulating slowly. When he received word from kindred in Kentucky that his mother was sick the boy wanted to see her. The man for whom he was working had $61 on the mantelpiece and the temptation was too great for the boy. He thought he could take the money and go home to his sick mother, but before he got to the railroad station and safely aboard the train the Sheriff of Pope county had his hands on him and he was placed in jail in Russellville.

He wrote a letter to an uncle telling him of his predicament and begged him not to let his parents know.

promising that when he got out he would go back home to stay until he was grown and would make amends for his waywardness. The boy's father arrived in Russellville Saturday, where the boy had been indicted by the grand jury, but upon entering a plea of guilty Judge Basham, out of consideration for the boy's age and his parents, suspended the sentence. The money was paid back and the father took the wayward son and left for their home in Kentucky.

PLAYER KILLED IN BALL GAME

Thomas McCoy, Right End of Bethany Football Team, is Arrested.
Charged With Murder.

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 14.—A warrant charging Thomas McCoy, right end of the Bethany College football team, with murder in connection with the death of Captain Rudolph Monk of the West Virginia University, was issued here Sunday by Magistrate R. G. Hobbs.

The action followed partial completion of the inquest by Coroner W. Rogers. Monk sustained injuries in the game between the two teams here Saturday from which he died later. The testimony upon which the warrant was issued was furnished principally by Homer N. Young, at Pittsburg attorney who umpired the game.

Young testified that Monk was making interference and was a few yards in front of the scrimmage line when McCoy came up to the West Virginia captain striking him in the head. Monk fell unconscious and Young ordered McCoy from the field.

In giving the details of the manner in which Monk was injured, Mr. Young said the ball was on Bethany's 30-yard line, when Monk started down the field for interference. "He was met by McCoy who ran toward him as they both were running down the field. Ten yards behind the scrimmage line when Monk was in front, McCoy struck him in the back of the head with his fist, Monk fell and McCoy fell also, but quickly recovered his feet, looked at Monk and started off the field."

Umpires Young said that as the blow appeared to him so clearly intentional that he immediately put McCoy out of the game.

McCoy left the college this fall without notifying the faculty, and had not played on the team for two weeks. President Cramblett of Bethany, said he was unaware that McCoy was to play in Saturday's game.

It was announced Sunday night that all the remaining games scheduled with West Virginia University will be cancelled.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

Governor Augustus E. Willson Unites
With Action of the President in Setting Aside Day of Worship.

The President of the United States of America has, by a public proclamation, set aside Thursday, the 24th day of November, 1910, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer to God, and in harmony with that proclamation and the spirit of our Commonwealth and in the name of the Commonwealth and all of its people, I unite in that action of the President.

Cause For Thankfulness.

No land and no people have so much to be thankful for and I call upon our people to pray for God's right and justice to prevail in all lands and throughout our land and in every neighborhood thereof. We are thankful for the many blessings and government of the people, by the people and for the people. We are thankful for good friends and good cheer, for our hopes and our chances. We are thankful for all that the Lord has brought to those in His providence and His wisdom. We should give covenant that we will cherish and obey His laws and keep with each other the covenants of our own laws and customs to do honor to the Lord of hosts and to bring blessings to the Commonwealth. Let us pray that we will bring it to pass that every soul shall have an equal chance before the law, and that this Commonwealth shall grow rich in the true spirit of the old Kentucky home. Let us welcome every useful worker who comes to us to live. Let us do all in our power to keep and hold the love, friendship, confidence, good will and fidelity of all who are with us now.

The Proclamation.

Now, therefore, I, Augustus E. Willson, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, have set aside and do hereby fix the twenty-fourth day of this November, nineteen hundred and ten, as a day of general thanksgiving and prayer, and ask that in so far as in us lies, all cease from toil and business and in our homes and places of worship truly thank our God for his blessings and gracious providence, and pledge to Him to keep our covenants with our God and each other of faithful service, human kindness, patient and steadfast endurance of the tasks of life and earnest good work to the end that we may hope for continued and renewed blessings.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the Commonwealth of Kentucky to be affixed.

Done at Frankfort this fourteenth day of November in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and ten and in the one hundred and nineteen year of the Commonwealth.

AUGUSTUS E. WILLSON,
Governor of Kentucky.

By the Governor,
BEN L. BRUNER,
Secretary of State.

1860—1910.

From the close of the Revolution
to 1860, the slave-holding States controlled practically the National Government, whether it was under the name of Whig or Democrat.Slavery gave them a power that at the present time would be called a "special interest." Three-fifths of the slaves were counted in making the district apportionments and counted in the electoral vote, though in fact the slaves did not vote and were prevented by the laws of the States from acquiring an education. This provision of the Constitution gave the Southern States an unjust advantage over the free States where only the actual voting population was counted.
The Southern planter was not interested in the extension of slave territory, but the politicians were, because it added to their force in the control of national affairs. There appeared in the first half of the last century a number of good men and women that were opposed to slavery on moral grounds and they became agitators. Among them were William Lloyd Garrison and Harriet Beecher Stowe. But the main opposition to slavery was political, rather than moral.If the wise advice of Henry Clay and later C. M. Clay, both Southerners, had been taken slavery could have been abolished without a Civil War, but the slave oligarchy would not listen to reason. In 1854 the Republican party was organized. The people back of it were not so much opposed to slavery as they were to the power that it gave to the politicians of the slave States. In other words, they were opposed to any special interests controlling the national government, and the election of Lincoln in 1860 was a protest against
it. Since 1860, the Republican party has held the office of President with the exception of two separate terms by Grover Cleveland. Gradually and insidiously the interests have sought to get control of the Republican organization and have in a measure succeeded. It should be borne in mind that the interests have no politics.
This was illustrated in New York this fall when in a day they switched from support of the Repub-WINCHESTER LUMBER & MANUFACTURING CO.
INCORPORATEDlean organization to that of the Democrats.
The landslide in favor of the Democrats is not an approval of the Democratic organization as such, but a protest against the present leadership of the Republican party. Under a different process the Southern States have about the same advantage in National legislation that they had before 1860. Under one form or another the negroes are disfranchised,
but they are all counted to make up
the representation at Washington.
Before the Democratic party can attain permanent power it must show to the people that it in fact does not represent a special interest; that it is willing to accord equal rights to all sections.Mr. Bryan can not elect himself or any other Democrat, but it seems that he can do something towards electing a Republican. He opposed the Democratic nominee for Governor of Nebraska because they disagreed on the whisky question, and the Republican was elected. His action knocks him out of consideration ever again as the nominee for President on the Democratic ticket. A bolter can't expect the united support of those who never bolt. The elimination of Bryan is one of the greatest assets that the election accomplished.—W. P. Walton in Lexington Herald.
The same process of reasoning
would eliminate Mr. Harmon, of Ohio, who did not support Mr. Bryan in 1896.Cynthiana belongs to the Baptists this. The seventy-third annual meeting of the Kentucky General Association
is in session at the Maiden
City.There is a corrupt business alliance between American interests and the Diaz Government of Mexico.
This accounts for the antagonism of the Mexican masses to Americans.If the wages of workers are not increased to something in proportion to the cost of living, there will be trouble in this country. Possibly you will remember this prophecy later.We believe that the Republicans made a mistake in nominating and electing Caleb Powers to Congress.
But the Democrats will make another if they try to unseat him.Legislation can do some things, but it cannot change the natural laws of trade.

Numbers of mechanical traps to catch muskrats have been invented and tried, but none gives more satisfaction
than the old floating barrel trap that has been in use for many years. Both ends are left closed, and a hole about eight by twelve inches square is sawed in the side. A strong cleat is nailed across each end, the cleats projecting six or eight inches beyond the barrel, and upon the cleats are nailed two boards, one on each side of the barrel and several inches longer.
Water then is placed in the barrel so that it will float with the board platforms

one-third of the barrel remains above water. Apples, carrots and other delicacies

RE-CAPTUREDEmmitt Page and Bob White Escape
From Officer Madigan Who Had Them at Work.Monday morning Emmitt Page, white, and Bob White, colored, escaped from deputy policeman Madigan who had them at work on the streets.
Both Page and White were sentenced to thirty days in jail Saturday on a charge of petit larceny. They were missed shortly after they escaped and Mr. Madigan with Mr. James Mullins, jailer, left in pursuit.The two officers procured a buggy and went to Flanagan Station on the L. & N. railroad. Just as they reached the station they caught sight of Page and White coming out of the cut above a short distance away headed for Richmond. The prisoners were captured and compelled to walk back to the city over the route they had come. They will be tried for escaping from an officer and their time in the Mullins House will be greatly increased.

NEW LEASE OF LIFE

Held By Rockefeller, Who Hopes
About Like a Fledgling.TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Nov. 14.— John D. Rockefeller is getting young again. He came down to the Baptist church Sunday with five friends, and while waiting for them to alight from the automobile, hopped upon the step to open the door for a woman. Then he helped his guests out, showing remarkable alacrity. Mr. Rockefeller appears to be in better health than in many years and attributes the improvement to golfing
and automobilizing.REFUTATION
OF CHARGESThat Japan Had Agreed With Russia
to Close "Open Door" in the Far West.WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—One of the most important diplomatic questions of the day, and which may retain its prominence throughout the present session, is the decision of the Japanese Government to seek from American capitalists funds for the building of a greater navy. The decision is regarded here as a refutation of all charges that the empire had agreed with Russia, by means ofthe Russo-Japanese convention, of three months ago, to close the "open door" in the Far West.To the Japanese Embassy has been delegated the delicate task of sounding the official and financial attitude of the Administration and capitalists, respectively. The Japanese diplomats it has been learned realize the responsibility of going on an errand which public opinion seems to take negatively. The larger Japanese navy has been mentioned as necessary to repulse American prestige in the Orient. It is this very report which Japan seeks to prove erroneous by arranging, if possible, to float ten million loans to cover the increased expenditure in this country.Premier Katsura has stated that the redemption fund of $25,000,000, which Japan had laid aside as a yearly contribution toward lightening the burden of growing national debts,
will not be affected and that the extra $40,000,000 necessary for the new navy can be obtained from the imperial treasury.This statement is accepted by Washington officials only in principle,
since it is known by all the Powers that Japan's surplus at this time is decreasing and that any expenditure which must be met by funds now available will force a deficiency that must be bridged by loans immediately thereafter. These would be the loans which Japan is planning to float in the United States.

SLAIN BY ASSASSINS

After Having Been Warned That His Life Was in Danger.MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Nov. 14.— Dominick Morone, a cobbler, was shot to death on the street here Sunday night, after having been freed from New York by members of an Italian secret society. It is said by the police he had received word that his life was in danger. On a train that pulled into here from New York Sunday were two strange Italians.
They inquired where Morone's shop
was located, and when Morone emerged, opened fire. One bullet struck the

GAS, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION VANISH

Settles Your Out-of-Order Stomach and Ends All Indigestion Five Minutes Later.

You can eat anything your stomach craves without fear of Indigestion or Dyspepsia, or that your food will ferment or sour on your stomach if you will take a little Diapiesin occasionally.

Your meals will taste good, and anything you eat will be digested; nothing can ferment or turn into acid or poison or stomach gas, which causes Belching, Dizziness, a feeling of fullness after eating, Nausea, Indigestion (like a lump of lead in stomach), Bilelessness, Heartburn, Water Brash, Pain in stomach and intestines or other symptoms.

Headaches from the stomach are absolutely unknown where this effective remedy is used. Diapiesin really does all the work of a healthy stomach. It digests your meals when your stomach can't. A single dose will digest all the food you eat and leave nothing to ferment or sour and upset the stomach.

Get a large 50-cent case of Diapiesin from your druggist and start taking now, and in a little while you will actually brag about your healthy, strong stomach, for you then can eat anything and everything you want without the slightest discomfort or misery, and every particle of impurity and Gas that is in your stomach and intestines is going to be carried away without the use of laxatives or any other assistance.

Should you at this moment be suffering from Indigestion or any stomach disorder, you can get relief within five minutes.

GREATEST RACE IN MANY YEARS

Latonia Fall Meeting Will End In Blaze of Glory.

ENTRIES FOR TWO-MILE EVENT

First Step Taken by Latonia Racing Association in the Direction of Stimulating Breeding of Horses. Omnium Handicap, With a Purse of Fifteen Hundred Dollars, Will Bring Together Crack Two-Year-Olds at the Track.

Cincinnati, O.—(Special.)—Latonia will wind up its most successful fall meeting in a blaze of glory this week. One of the biggest events ever pulled off in the west will be the feature for Tuesday, Nov. 15, in a two-mile race in which some of the best horses in the country will start. Those that are sure to go are Bonnie Kelso, the best long-distance horse from the east; Countess, who has a world of speed and a lot of stamina and who hails from Tennessee; Cheryola, the speedy filly Cheryola; the plodding Taboo, another easterner; Pauntleroy, a Derby colt; Leannence, another one good at a route, and Citronella, a game filly belonging to Captain Cassatt.

Others may be entered, but the field as it stands would be hard to duplicate and are bound to make a great race of it. It has been many years since horses of the calibre of Bonnie Kelso, Countess and Cheryola have gone to the post in a long distance event, and this race marks the first step that the Latonia Racing association has taken in the direction of stimulating the breeding of horses for something else beside speed and dropping the system of running races that only serve as mediums for betting.

Besides this stake the Omnium Handicap comes up on Thursday. This is for two-year-olds and upwards and is worth $1,500. It will bring together all of the crack two-year-olds at the track, who will meet the speediest of the many good sprinters at the course.

On Saturday, the closing day, the Final Stakes will be the feature. This is a selling event and will bring a high class field of platers together. The other races on the daily programs will be of the best sort, and the over-night handicaps will be made up of the best material at the track.

With a program like this for the last week of the season, record breaking crowds are looked for, something that the Latonia management deserves for its energy and its enterprise.

The Latonia track, one of the most beautiful in the country, is in Kentucky, about three and one-half miles south of Cincinnati, and is best reached by Covington car lines from Fountain Square.

Points

A woman who always dresses the salad at the table has various accompaniments brought to her with the oil and vinegar. Sometimes a sweet red pepper chopped very fine is used; at another time hard boiled eggs reduced to flakes serve as a foundation for the dressing. Chervil and chives chopped very fine are sometimes in the bottom of the bowl, and when the salad is plain lettuce there may be a slice of onion chopped very fine or a green pepper minced or even a tomato. The three tablespoonsful of oil and one of vinegar, salt and paprika go into the bowl, whatever it may contain and are emulsified with them.

A New Soup.

Not every one knows that the common field sorrel makes a soup that is popular in France. A cultivated kind with larger leaves and somewhat less acid flavor than the wild kind is sometimes found here in the fancy markets. Wash, drain and chop about a pint of the sorrel and mix it with minced chives. Turn the mixture into a pan with a tablespoonful of butter and cook very slowly for ten minutes. At the end of the time add three cupsful of boiling water with salt and pepper and boil for five minutes. Remove from the fire, stir in the beaten yolks of two eggs and turn into a soup tureen over croutons.

Spiced Plums.

For the sirup allow one pound of sugar to each pound of fruit and a scant pint of vinegar to every three pounds of sugar. To each peck of plums allow one tablespoonful of ground cinnamon, one of cloves, one of mace and one of allspice. Pickle each plum well with a darning needle, add the spices to the sirup and pour the sirup, boiling hot, over the plums. Let them stand three days, then skin out the plums and boil the sirup down until quite thick, so there is just enough to cover the fruit. Pour hot over the plums. Set away in a stone jar, with paraffin paper over the top.

Sweet Apple Pickles.

Make a sirup with three pounds of sugar and one pint of vinegar and white it is heating put in about a teaspoonful each of cloves and allspice and a stick of cinnamon broken in bits. When the sirup boils up well put in seven pounds of good cooking apples, pared, cored and cut in quarters. Turn them over gently with a wooden spoon, being careful not to break them. Cook until you can penetrate with a fork and then turn into jars. More apples can be added from time to time, if you have them in a stone crock, until the rock is full. These will keep for a year.

Apple Lemonade.

Take six tart apples, three lemons, one-quarter stick of cinnamon, four cups of sugar, two bay leaves, one cup of raisins and one orange. Wash, quarter and core the apples. Put them into the kettle with the raisins, bay leaves and cinnamon. Add two quarts of water and bring to the boiling point. Add two quarts more of cold water in which the sugar and grated rind of the lemons and orange have been dissolved. Simmer slowly half an hour, strain and when ready to serve add the juice of the lemons and the orange. Set on ice until very cold.

Spiced Pears.

To seven pounds of fruit, one quart of vinegar, three pounds of sugar and a tablespoonful each of cloves and stick cinnamon. Put the fruit, sugar and spices in the jars in layers and let stand overnight. In the morning drain off the juice and let it boil up, then pour over the fruit. Repeat this process and on the third morning add vinegar to the sirup and when boiling pour in the fruit and cook until the pears are transparent and can be pierced with a fork.

Oatmeal Cookies.

Sift a quart of flour twice with a teaspoonful of salt and one of baking soda

Logical Reason for Argument.
When conversing or arguing do not try to sustain your position at any shift, and dodge and hedge; and bluff and bluster to maintain that you were right. Listen and follow your opponent; if he compels you to go with him a mile go with him twice. Try to get at the meat of his conviction. You know yours already. Most people converse to hear their own remarks, and wait impatiently for their friend to finish his sentence to break in with their own.

The New Tool For Removing Corn From the Cob.

THE SPLITTER AT WORK.

Many persons like to cut their corn from the cob at table, and, as a rule, this is an awkward and sometimes a dangerous proceeding and never a graceful one. The new corn splitter recently invented is a simple and neat little contrivance that comes in plated and real silver for use at table in removing the grains of corn from the cob—that is, it doesn't remove them entirely, but extracts all the substance of the corn, leaving the kernels on the cob.

A Smart Bathrobe.

A good bathrobe is an expensive thing to buy, but a stunning robe may be made by the skillful seamstress of blue bordered Turkish toweling like

Roosevelt the "Feminine."

It has just been discovered by Duffield Osborne that Mr. Roosevelt is a typical embodiment of the feminine in man. Mr. Osborne announces the discovery in the Forum and ingeniously upholds it. A woman's horizon, we are told, is not less distant than a man's, but when she gazes at it she "holds up her hands like blinders and sees only the small segment that is straight ahead instead of allowing her eyes to sweep around the circumference." It has been supposed that Mr. Roosevelt in the course of his seven years in the White House surveyed nearly all the known subjects surveyable by the human mind, but Mr. Osborne nevertheless finds that "this is pre-eminently a mind that sees one thing at a time, or, in other words, works by intuition pure and simple." Therefore is he a feminine type.

A Mirror Precaution.

Many persons do not know that sunshine is destructive to mirrors and produces that milky appearance which cannot be got rid of. When a mirror is being washed the water should not be allowed to get close to the edges, for often it will leak under, giving a mottled effect and ruining the glass. Hand mirrors should be placed where the sun will not strike them, and the cleaning pastes that they are polished with should not be too moist, for there are often tiny spaces that will admit a liquid, and after this happens the mirror's usefulness will soon come to an end.

Woman's World

No More Flossie's Fair—Miss Libbey's Stopped Writing Novels.

MISS LAURA JEAN LIBBEY.

Terrible calamity!
Gris, it's something awful!
Laura Jean Libbey has written her last book.

Positively her last!

Her press agent says so.

Georgiana, the beautiful silk spinner, will never again clasp Alexander Algonquin Du Bois Vere de Vere in her strong young arms while the liquid sunlight flames in the burning depths of her lapis lazuli orbs. Alas, how perfectly horrible it true! No more marriages of gartered dukes to the sweet singing little canary in the chambre de cuisine. Never no more will the proud earl discard his son and heir and cut him off with a shoe button for marrying the lodgekeeper's magnificently misanthropic adopted daughter who eventually turns out to be a lost duchess and heiress to all the coffee lands in Brazil.

L. J. Libbey's threat must carry connotation to every kitchen in the land, and 10,000,000 factory girls will tear their hair with pitiful wails when they get the stupendous news.

And what will the distinguished authoress-vaudevilian turn her pen to now?

Hist! She e'en will become a playwright. The playwright hanker grips her soul and mayhap she will strip the brows of Theodore Kremer and Owen Davis, vaudeville playwrights, of their tollfully won laurels.

What Women Are Doing.

There is to be a lady chapel in the new Liverpool cathedral, for which is planned a scheme of stained glass windows commemorating the deeds of good women. On one the inscription reads, "Queen Victoria and All Noble Queens," and others are inscribed: "Grace Darling and All Courageous Women," "Catherine Gladstone and All Loyal Hearted Wives," "Elizabeth Barrett Browning and All Women Who Have Seen the Infinite in Things."

Mrs. Alice Stebbins Wells, it is reported, will be appointed policewoman of Los Angeles, Cal. It was Mrs. Wells' efforts, backed by the ministers and clubwomen, that caused the ordinance to be passed creating the office of policewoman in Los Angeles.

"My work is to be chiefly where young people gather for entertainment in parks, penny arcades, moving picture shows and dance halls," Mrs. Wells explained when asked to talk about her new work. "I will deal chiefly with the proprietors of such places and will see that all laws are obeyed and the places are kept clean and moral."

Although Miss Clara Barton, the founder of the Red Cross society in the United States, is ninety-one, she still takes personal charge of one of the branches of the society. Miss Barton's relief work dates back to the civil war, when she became a nurse on the battlefields and organized searching parties for missing soldiers.

Still a Housekeeper at 104.

Living far up in the Allegheny mountains is a remarkable woman who is more than 104 years old. She has the proofs of her age, and the inhabitants for miles around gather on Aug. 2 each year to make merry on her birthday and to express hope that she may live many more years. She is Mother Shoemaker, and her home is near Dubois, Pa. She was born in 1806. Rent with her years, but happy and contented, she sits in a tiny house built in the mountains. She does not have a housekeeper or a servant. She says she is strong enough to do her own work and to attend to her own wants. It would not bother her if she did not have an income for her support. She says she could earn her own living without any trouble. She has lived the simple life. She has worked in the fields, and she has been a mother.

If You Want to Be Liked.

Don't, when people say nice things to you, think that they must necessarily be insincere. It is quite as natural for some persons to put their nice thoughts about you into words as it is for them to breathe.

Matter of Solidity.
During a recent transatlantic trip I kept a diary, relates a noted actor. We were only a few days out when I became very chummy with a noted tenor. We were both traveling alone, and so sought each other's company a great deal. In my diary I wrote: "We are very thick. I think he is the thicker of the two."

Transportation.
A Texas evangelist says: "Persons who speculate on the stock market or bet on horse races are bound for hell in a racing automobile." But the experience of an observer is that those who speculate on horse races or bet on the stock market usually arrive there as pedestrians.

Reason for Happiness.
"You look particularly happy today," said Citiman. "I am," replied Suburbs. "I've succeeded in getting our leading lady to sign for another season." "I didn't know you were in the theatrical business." "I'm not. I refer to our cook."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Logical Deduction.
"That man doesn't own an auto and has no chance of ever buying one." "What makes you say that?" "It's easy to tell. Didn't you see how heartily he laughed when he saw his friend's auto stalled in the mud?"—Detroit Free Press.

NOT SORRY FOR BLUNDER.

"If my friends hadn't blundered in thinking I was a doomed victim of consumption, I might not be alive now," writes D. T. Sanders, of Harrodsburg, Ky., "but for years they saw every attempt cure a lung rack lung cough fail. At last I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. The effect was wonderful. It soon stopped the cough and I am now in better health than I have had for years. This wonderful life saver is an unrivaled remedy for coughs, colds, grippe, asthma, croup, hemorrhages, whooping cough or weak lungs. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by the Winchester Drug Co."

Meaning of "Clubman."

In the far spread New York of today the public takes less interest in the private affairs of the children of Vanity Fair than it used to do. And so it is elsewhere. You may see the splash in a pond; it is lost in the ocean which is a modern metropolis. Today the term "clubman" means nothing in the days that are no more it was a definition that stood for something—New York Evening Sun.

Oh, You Brute!

A certain favorite American actress was reported to have said, apropos of marriage, that, as for herself, she was wedded to art. On which one of those horrid newspaper men thought proper to remark: "Then Mary is to be congratulated, as Art neither shores nor has cold feet!"
